AI Assistance Disclosure

We used OpenAI-based AI tools to support language editing, documentation drafting, information lookup, and scaffolding of non-creative technical artifacts (e.g., wrapper/shell script structure). Due to limited time and compute resources, AI support was used to accelerate repetitive tasks. All AI outputs were treated as suggestions and were manually reviewed, tested, and corrected by the authors before inclusion. Final technical decisions, experiment setup, results, and conclusions remain the responsibility of the authors.
